Keywords

Make sure all keywords are relevant to your app and have no copyright. Use keywords with the highest traffic. Is your app after weeks not in the first 5 suggestions, use the keyword more often or replace it with a keyword with less searchvolume. If your app has more downloads after some time, you can try to use discarded keywords with high searchvolume again.

Write your description not only for the Google search algorithm, but also for your users! To get a good ranking for keywords, you should use this at least once in the title or in the short description. If you only use keywords in the long description, they should appear more than once.

Relevant short-tail keywords

Use these keywords (if possible in combination with a LongTail keyword) here: package name AppName PlayStore title, short and long description Name of the apk file Name of screenshot files Google Play Developer Name

Name Suggestion copyright risk	isRelevant keyword	▼ SearchVolume relative absolute	Competitors relative absolute

Relevant apps

These apps were found by our algorithm. You can use these as inspiration for app features, screenshots, icons, titles, and description text. Do not copy other store entries, your app will probably be placed worse in the ranking and could also be blocked. Be careful not to infringe copyrights and copy titles.
